

CIEN WHITE

FROM TORO

VARIETAL: Malvasía VINTAGE: 2016 ALCOHOL: 12,5%
WINEMAKER: Nuria de la Torre

Cien means one hundred, relates to the number of days between flowering and harvest of the grapes

WINEMAKING:

A fresh, floral and gently aromatic white wine, with a twist of exotic spice and rounded finish.

Produced from the local Malvasia grape, grown on Toro's pebble soils at an altitude of 650 metres above sea level.

TASTING NOTES

TASTING NOTES:

This is a tasty wine, clean and easy to drink, with moderate acidity and a delicate range of aromas of tropical fruits, and white flowers. The palate is fresh, pleasant and well balanced. Served chilled is the perfect white wine as an aperitif or to enjoy with tapas, fish or light meals.

THE REGION: TORO

Toro is a lesser-known region of Spain but home to some of its finest wines made from the Tinta de Toro grape, the original un-grafted variety of the Tempranillo grape, which produces wine with more colour and higher tannin levels than Tempranillo elsewhere in Spain. It covers around 6,000 hectares of vineyards, where the local variety Tinta de Toro is the main character. Has an extreme continental climate, with an annual average of rainfall of around 350 – 400 mm., between 2.600 and 3.000 hours of sunshine per year and an altitude between 650 m. and 750 m. Traditionally associated with bull-fighting and bull running and for its gusty robust reds, the region is now producing more elegant and modern wines. Bos, which is produced for us at the Covitoro winery, displays all the typical deep colour and rich fruity aromas but has been made with deliberately restrained tannins to provide smoother, much more elegant drinking. Fittingly the label features an elegant image of the the region's defining image and the wine is named after the genus for cattle.

CIEN ROSE

FROM TORO

VARIETAL: Tinta de Toro VINTAGE: 2016 ALCOHOL: 13,5%
WINEMAKER: Nuria de la Torre

Cien means one hundred, relates to the number of days between flowering and harvest of the grapes

WINEMAKING:

A vibrant cherry and red berry scented rosé, with bright summer pudding flavours.

Produced from the indigenous Tinta de Toro (Tempranillo variety) grape, grown on the heart of Toro region, pebble soils at an altitude of 650 metres above sea level.

TASTING NOTES:

With a selection of the most suitable grapes for rosé wines we elaborate this strawberry pink colour wine, with style and personality, fresh, bright and fruity with floral notes and a fine and tasty palate. Both rosé wine lovers and occasional consumers will find in this wine a refreshing elaboration, modern and harmonious, providing pleasant moments.

Toro is a lesser-known region of Spain but home to some of its finest wines made from the Tinta de Toro grape, the original un-grafted variety of the Tempranillo grape, which produces wine with more colour and higher tannin levels than Tempranillo elsewhere in Spain. It covers around 6,000 hectares of vineyards, where the local variety Tinta de Toro is the main character. Has an extreme continental climate, with an annual average of rainfall of around 350 – 400 mm., between 2.600 and 3.000 hours of sunshine per year and an altitude between 650 m. and 750 m. Traditionally associated with bull-fighting and bull running and for its gusty robust reds, the region is now producing more elegant and modern wines. Bos, which is produced for us at the Covitoro winery, displays all the typical deep colour and rich fruity aromas but has been made with deliberately restrained tannins to provide smoother, much more elegant drinking. Fittingly the label features an elegant image of the the region's defining image and the wine is named after the genus for cattle.

TASTING NOTES

THE REGION: TORO

CIEN ROBLE

FROM TORO

VARIETAL: Tinta de Toro VINTAGE: 2015 ALCOHOL: 14,5%
AGED: 2 months on oak WINEMAKER: Nuria de la Torre

Cien means one hundred, relates to the number of days this wine was matured in barrel.

WINEMAKING:

Supple cherry and damson fruit flavours, with just a twist of vanilla and spice from ageing in American oak barrels.

Produced from the indigenous Tinta de Toro (tempranillo variety), grown on irrigated bush vines in Toro's pebble soils at 700 metres above sea level. After remaining in barrels for one hundred days, is the ideal wine for those looking for a wine that retains the fruit of young wines, combined with a subtle touch of wood that makes it an harmonious wine, elegant and rich on the palate.

TASTING NOTES

COLOUR: deep cherry red..

AROMA: intense aromas of berries and black plums and hints of vanilla and spices.

PALATE: tasty and pleasant on the palate

Toro is a lesser-known region of Spain but home to some of its finest wines made from the Tinta de Toro grape, the original un-grafted variety of the Tempranillo grape, which produces wine with more colour and higher tannin levels than Tempranillo elsewhere in Spain. It covers around 6,000 hectares of vineyards, where the local variety Tinta de Toro is the main character. Has an extreme continental climate, with an annual average of rainfall of around 350 – 400 mm., between 2.600 and 3.000 hours of sunshine per year and an altitude between 650 m. and 750 m. Traditionally associated with bull-fighting and bull running and for its gusty robust reds, the region is now producing more elegant and modern wines. Bos, which is produced for us at the Covitoro winery, displays all the typical deep colour and rich fruity aromas but has been made with deliberately restrained tannins to provide smoother, much more elegant drinking. Fittingly the label features an elegant image of the the region's defining image and the wine is named after the genus for cattle.

THE REGION: TORO

