DELINCUENTE GARNACHA

CAMPO DE BORJA

Cierzo is the name of the wind in CAMPO DE BORJA.

It is a fresh, strong and dry wind originated in the Ebro Valley due to the pressure difference between the Cantabrian and the Mediterranean Seas. It hinders the development of certain pests, cools the temperature during summer and freezes during winter.

The wine heritage of the DO "Campo de Borja" is very rich in terms of "Garnacha"; the oldest vineyards in the DO date from 1145 and from 5,000 hectares of Grenache, more than 2,000 of them are aged between 30 and 50 years old. They have low productions, but the wines are immensely appreciated enologically, because the structural and aromatic complexity provided. If any nuance defines Campo de Borja wines it is its unique balance, a product rich in contrast present in the area and the determination to combine modernity and tradition in some intense wines with crisp fruit flavors, energy and personality.

THE VULTURE

We chose the vulture in our label because the bird flies the highest (11.000 meters at least) and does not know about frontiers, as it can fly miles and miles, as our wine! Delincuente means "delinquent" because this wine breaks the rules; the rule of quality / price!!! A lot of quality for a great price!

A vulture is perched on a dark, gnarled branch that extends diagonally from the bottom right towards the center. The vulture is facing left, with its head turned slightly towards the viewer. It has dark feathers on its wings and back, and a lighter, more textured neck and head. The background is a solid, vibrant red. The overall composition is simple and striking.

THE VULTURES

BREAK THE RULES: THINK DIFFERENT!

The vulture is perhaps the most reviled bird on the planet, but they have a good list of merits: they never kill other animals; they are likely to be monogamous and we know that they share the care of the offspring with their partner; They loaf and soak in large. And most importantly, they perform a crucial and never-appreciated service in their ecosystems: the quick cleaning and recycling of dead animals.

And it is the animal that flies the highest (11.000 meters at least) and does not know about frontiers, as it can fly miles and miles, as our wine!

THE PRESS COMMENTS

A hint of Liquorice coming through in aroma. Peppery characters being picked up with hints of cherry. A little dry but fresh. Short on finish with nice spice notes. Light and easy. Some gentle cherry notes. Bright pink rim. Full modern fruit. Good bright and full fruit with a touch of spice. Well balanced – very slight development to palate. A medium finish. Lovely bright fruit. Supple and fresh.
